From the GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE for March last.

ON the 11th Inſtant, one Richard Parſons of Chalford in Glouceſterſhire, in playing at Cards, wiſhed his Fleſh might Rot, and his Eyes never ſhut, if he loſt the next Game. At Night, in going to Bed, he obſerved a black Spot upon his Leg, from which a Mortification ſoon enſued, and he died in a few Days in a very miſerable Condition.

From the GENTLEMAN'S MAGAZINE for April laſt.

SIR, April 24, 1766.

IN your laſt Magazine, among the Articles of News, you inſert the Memorable Caſe of Richard Parſons, as it was found in the Glouceſter Journal; ſince which, at the Requeſt of a Friend in London, William Dallaway, Eſq; the High Sheriff, who lives within two Miles of Chalford, has examined into the Affair, and has tranſmitted a particular Account of it in a Letter, from which the following Extract is taken, which you are deſired to preſerve in your uſeful Intelligencer, as it tends to confirm that natural and revealed Truth, That there is a GOD who Judges in the Earth.

I am, Sir, &c.

R. WINTER.

On February 20 laſt, Richard Parſons and Three more met at a Private Houſe in Chalford, in order to play at Cards, about VI o'Clock in the Evening. They played at Loo till about XI or XII that Night, when they changed their Game for Whiſt: After a few Deals, a Diſpute aroſe about the State of the Game, Parſons aſſerted, with Oaths, that they were Six, which the others denied; upon which he wiſhed, That he might never enter into the Kingdom of Heaven, and that his Fleſh might Rot upon his Bones, if they were not Six in the Game. Theſe Wiſhes were ſeveral Times repeated, both then and afterwards. Upon this the Candle was put out by one James Young, a Stander-by, who ſays, he was ſhocked with the Oaths and Expreſſions he heard, and that he put out the Candle with a Deſign to put an End to the Game.

Preſently, upon this, they adjourned to another Houſe, and there began a freſh Game, when Parſons and his Partner had great Succeſs. Then they play'd at Loo again till IV in the Morning. During this ſecond Playing, Parſons complained to one Rolles, his Partner, of a bad Pain in his Leg, which from that Time increaſed.——There was an Appearance of a Swelling, and afterwards the Colour changed to that of a mortified State. On the following Sunday he rode to Minchin Hampton, to get the Advice of Mr. Pegler the Surgeon in that Town, who attended him from the Thurſday after February 27. Notwithſtanding all the Applications that were made, the Mortification increaſed, and ſhewed itſelf in different Parts of his Body. On Monday March 3, at the Requeſt of ſome of his Female Relations, the Clergyman of Biſley attended him, and adminiſtered the Sacrament, without any Knowledge of what had happened before, and which he continued a Stranger to till he ſaw the Account in the Glouceſter Journal. Parſons appeared to be extremely ignorant of Religion, having been accuſtomed to ſwear, to drink, (though he was not in Liquor when he uttered the above execrable Wiſh) to game, and to profane the Sabbath, tho' he was only in his 19th Year; yet, after he had received the Sacrament, he appeared to have ſome Senſe of the Ordinance; for he ſaid, Now I muſt never Sin again; he hoped that GOD would forgive him, having been wicked not above Six Years, and that whatever ſhould happen, he would not Play at Cards again.

After this he was in great Agony, chiefly delirious, ſpoke of his Companions by Name, and ſeemed as if his Imagination was engaged at Cards. He ſtarted, had diſtracted Looks and Geſtures, and in a dreadful Fit of ſhaking and trembling, died on Tueſday Morning, the 4th of March laſt, and was buried the next Day at the Pariſh Church of Biſley. His Eyes were open when he died, and could not be cloſed by the common Methods; ſo that they remained open when he was put into the Coffin: From this Circumſtance aroſe a Report, that he wiſhed his Eyes might never cloſe; but this was a Miſtake; for, from the moſt creditable Witneſſes, I am fully convinced no ſuch Wiſh was uttered; and the Fact is, that he did cloſe his Eyes after he was taken with the Mortification, and either doſed or ſlept ſeveral Times.

When the Body came to be laid out, it appeared all over diſcoloured or ſpotted; and it might, in the moſt literal Senſe, be ſaid, that his Fleſh rotted on his Bones before he died.

Mr. Dallaway, having deſired Mr. Pegler, the Surgeon, to ſend him his Thoughts of Parſons's Caſe, received from him the following Account:

"SIR, You deſire me to acquaint you, in Writing, with what I know relating to the melancholy Caſe of the late Richard Parſons; a Requeſt I readily comply with, hoping that his ſad Cataſtrophe will ſerve to admoniſh all thoſe who profane the ſacred Name of GOD.

February 27 laſt, I viſited Richard Parſons, who I found had an inflamed Leg, ſtretching from the Foot almoſt to the Knee, tending to a Gangrene. The tenſeneſs and redneſs of the Skin was almoſt gone off, and become of a duſkiſh and livid Colour, and felt very lax and flabby: Symptoms being ſo dangerous, ſome Inciſions were made down to the Quick, ſome ſpirituous Fomentations made Uſe of, and the whole Limb dreſſed up with ſuch Applications as are moſt approved in ſuch deſperate Circumſtances, joined with proper internal Medicines. The next Day he ſeemed much the ſame; but on March 1 he was worſe, the Inciſions diſcharging a ſharp fœtid Ichor, (which is generally of the worſt Conſequence.) On the next Day which was Sunday, the Symptoms ſeemed to be a little more favourable; but, to my great Surprize, the very next Day, I found his Leg not only mortified up to the Knee, but the ſame began anew in Four different Parts, viz. under each Eye, on the Top of the Shoulder, and on one Hand; and in about 12 Hours after he died. I ſhall not preſume to ſay there was any Thing ſupernatural in the Caſe; but, however, it muſt be confeſſed that ſuch Caſes are rather uncommon in Subjects ſo young, and of ſo good an Habit as he had always been, previous to this Illneſs.

I am, Sir, &c.

NAPLES, April 5.

THE Eruptions of Veſuvius has not ceaſed ſince the 27th laſt. The Lava at preſent extends itſelf to about two Miles in Length, being about thirty Feet in its greateſt Breadth, and Nine at its utmoſt Depth. It runs from the Summit of the Mountain, and maintains its Courſe towards Portici. The Volcano emits Flames from time to time, and throws up burning Stones, among which are ſome of an enormous Size, which were launched forth more than 200 Feet high. Theſe Exploſions are always accompanied with violent Convulſions, and a Noiſe reſembling that of Cannon, but are not continual, having had ſeveral Intermiſſions ſince the firſt Commencement of this horrible Spectacle.

Lucca, April 5. We learn from Corſica, that the Communities of that Iſle have preſented a Petition to General Paoli, requeſting of him the Abolition of ſome Taxes which he has lately eſtabliſhed; and that they had for Anſwer, that the ordinary Revenues of the Government were not ſufficient for withdrawing them entirely from under the Genoeſe Yoke, and that of Courſe they ought to give a ſincere Teſtimony of their Fidelity to their Country, and of their Love for Liberty, by paying thoſe Taxes with Chearfulneſs and Generoſity.

It is aſſured that General Paoli is preparing to go to Cape-Corſe, in the Province of Balagna, that he has ſent Orders to all his Forces to put themſelves under Arms, and to be ready to march upon an Enterprize, neceſſary to the Support and Defence of their Honour. It is added, that this Order has given the Alarm to the French Troops.

The Citizens of Ajaccio, having had Advice that the Commiſſary of the Republick had condemned to Death two Inhabitants of that Place, who had defended themſelves vigorouſly againſt the Arches, but afterwards had been taken by the French Soldiers, have all riſen, and declared, that they are reſolved to ſave their Fellow Citizens, whatever it coſt them; notwithſtanding this, the Executioner is expected at Baſtia to put them to Death.

LONDON, May 3.

Tueſday laſt a Cauſe was Tried, by a Special Jury, in the Court of King's Bench, Guildhall, wherein an Under-writer was Plaintiff, and a Merchant of this City Defendant, for Recovery of 200 l. paid by the Plaintiff, for Loſs on a Policy of Inſurance on a Ship which was proved to be wilfully ſunk by the Captain in 1765. It appearing upon the Trial, that the Merchant knew nothing of the Captain's Roguery, and that he had paid the Inſurance to the Perſon for whom it was made; the Jury brought in a Verdict for the Defendant. It is ſaid that other Cauſes, to the Value of near 30,000 l. depended upon the Iſſue of this.

It is very poſitively aſſerted, that his Grace the Duke of Grafton has reſigned his Poſt of Secretary of State; that he did no Buſineſs all laſt Week, particularly, he did not ſee the foreign Ambaſſadors laſt Thurſday. It is affirmed, that he will be ſucceeded by the Earl of Winchelſea, Firſt Lord of the Admiralty; Lord Northington, Preſident of the Council; and Mr. Yorke, Lord Keeper. They were carried off, with a Deſign to be run on board at ſome more convenient Place.

CHAP. I.

1. The murmurs of the people, and the diviſion amongſt them. 9. Speech of a great man in their behalf in the Sanhedrim. 17. The rejoicings in the great city on account thereof. 23. A further deſtruction of the St——d P——r.

NOW it came to paſs, that after the People had waited in expectation of relief from the mighty men of the great houſe, even in the houſe of a great aſſembly,

2. That they grew exceedingly weary, and were very wroth, inſomuch that they returned their ſhips, and their goods, and would not let them paſs this way nor that way, but ſent them afar off from whence they came.

3. And they worked each man for himſelf, and each woman for herſelf, and each child for itſelf alſo.

4. And they made themſelves clothing and raiment to put on, even from the produce of their own land in great abundance.

5. Now it came to paſs when the great merchants, and the traders upon the mighty waters, heard all that was done, they murmured amongſt themſelves, ſaying,

6. What now can we do? Our ſhips and our trade are at a ſtand, and the things that we have ſent, behold them returned upon our hands.

7. And their complaints grew exceedingly high, for they wot not what to do.

8. And behold a great man, even the man of wiſdom and integrity, and one of the number of the lawgivers, in the great houſe of the great city, roſe up, and ſeeing the burthens and the troubles of the people, cried out with a loud voice!

9. Men and brethren! Ye perceive the things that I long forewarned you of, that they are now come to paſs, and the peoples oppreſſion become very grievous before our eyes.

10. Aforetime have I ſpoken again and again, but you would not hear, neither liſten to my words, or to the prophecies I foretold;

11. Therefore is this evil come upon you, and the Children of the land made to cry out, Fie! fie!

12. For their Trade is now ſtopped, and their merchandize (the glory of the eaſt, yea, alſo, and of the ſouth) is become even as nothing;

13. Therefore, I ſay unto you, take off the burthen from their ſhoulders; for the poor crieth out in the ſtreets, and the great men of your trade go mourning all the day long.

14. Thus ſpake the good man for the children of the col---es, and for the merchants, and for the poor of the Land of Britain; yea for three hours did he ſpeak, and he gained applauſe.

15. But it came to paſs that while he was yet ſpeaking, G——e, the ſon of B——l, roſe up, and uttered many things againſt this good man, and againſt the words which he had ſpoken;

16. But his tongue was as the tongue of the wicked, and he made no great weight with the Clacking thereof.

17. Now it came to paſs, that after theſe things, a report ſpread in the great city, that the tax which had been laid on the people would ſhortly be taken away.

18. And the words of the good man were made known unto them, and they rejoiced greatly thereat.

19. (For in thoſe days there were ſcribes and men who did cunning work with types, and there were alſo devils, and they made a great ſtir in the city and in the col---es abroad, even unto America.)

20. And when they had heard all that was done, they were exceeding joyful, and gladneſs appeared in their eyes, and they ſpake forth their praiſe with tongues of gladneſs.

21. And behold the muſick in the ſteeples, and on the cleavers, and on the parchments were heard through every ſtreet, and every alley and court.

22. And the inſtruments of wind, and the fiddle, were alſo heard; but the bagpipe was not heard all the day long.

23. Now the children afar off heard not of theſe things by reaſon of the great diſtance acroſs the land, and acroſs the ſea.

24. And behold they were exceeding wroth, and they laid hold of one Caleb, and John, and George, and another John; and they demanded the papers with the marks on the corner thereof.

25. And their number was very great, ſo that they dared not refuſe: So they gave unto them the things they deſired.

26. And behold on the ſecond month, on the fourth day of the month, that they laid them in a heap and ſet fire thereto, and they burned them even to aſhes, ſo that not one of them was left unhurt.

27. And they made figures of ſtraw, and of rags, and they called them maſters of ſtamps, and they burnt them alſo.

28. And behold when they had burned all they could get, they departed joyful each man to his own home.

BOSTON, July 7.

Extract of a Letter from London, dated May 16.

"On the preſent happy Proſpect of Affairs, permit me, with a Heart full of Joy, moſt ſincerely to congratulate you; for in Addition to the Repeal of the Stamp-Act, the Ports of Kingſton and St. Lucea, in the Iſland of Jamaica, and two Ports on the Iſland of Dominica, are made Free Ports. The Duty on Melaſſes reduced to One Penny per Gallon; (and ſeveral other Hardſhips will be removed, we hope, this Seſſion) though theſe laſt have not yet paſſed the Royal Aſſent, they have paſſed the Commons, and may be fully expected.——I hope the Merchants trading to North-America will now be looked upon as the true Friends to that vaſt Country, as certain it is, that nothing in their Power has been wanting in ſupporting their juſt Rights; notwithſtanding—— it is an evident Truth, that the Welfare of both this Kingdom and her Colonies depend on their intire Union; which ſurely muſt now be the Caſe, as every Thing that can be wiſhed, is now, or will be, done for you, before the breaking up of the Parliament."

Extract of another Letter from a Gentleman in London, to his Friend in Boſton, May 16, 1766.

"As ſoon as the Act relative to the new Regulations on American Affairs is publiſhed, I ſhall take the Liberty of ſending it to you."——

Friday laſt his Excellency the Governor was pleaſed to iſſue a Proclamation appointing Thurſday, the 24th of this Inſtant, as a Day of public Thankſgiving throughout this Province, on Account of the Repeal of the Stamp-Act.

NEW-YORK, July 10.

We hear from Connecticut, That on the 14th ult. about 70 Men of Wallingford and the Parts adjacent in that Colony, ſign'd and ſent a Petition to the County Court, then ſitting at New-Haven, ſetting forth, that if they were diſturbed and hindered from their farming Buſineſs, by any Law Proceedings during the Summer Seaſon, in their preſent Circumſtances, they ſhould be abſolutely ruin'd and render'd incapable to pay their Debts or ſupport their Families, and therefore praying, that the Court would give no Judgments, at that Time, nor adjourn for any further Proceedings againſt them during the Summer, for that they were determin'd no ſuch Thing ſhould be done,—and concluded with ſomething like a Menace, to the Court, in Caſe their Requeſt was not complied with.——On this, the moſt of the Petitioners were ſent for in Cuſtody, and as they did not all readily obey the Summons, the Militia was order'd to be raiſed, but the People of the Place being generally offended with the Petitioners, they thought proper voluntarily to ſurrender themſelves (except 20 of the Contrivers, who abſconded) and ſubmit to the Mercy of the Court, declaring that they were perſuaded to ſign the Petition, and knew not that it contained any offenſive or improper Expreſſions, for that when it was read to them at their ſigning, no ſuch Expreſſions were mention'd.——The Court thought proper to diſmiſs them, after the Payment of Charges.

We have many melancholy Accounts from different Parts of the Continent of the fatal Effects of Lightning.——Several People have loſt their Lives by it, ſome Houſes and Veſſels have been damaged, Barns burnt, and Cattle killed.

We hear from New-Jerſey, that Abundance of Damage has been done there by the great Rains which fell on Thurſday Night, Friday and Saturday laſt. It is ſaid the Cloud from whence the heavy Rain fell, did not extend further to the N. than Bound Brook—But in other Parts, about Spotſwood, Second River, &c. the Floods there have been very great, and ſwept away all before them, not a Bridge or Mill for many Miles was left ſtanding—We have already heard of the Loſs of between 20 and 30 Mills.——

The ſame noble and patriotic Spirit which hath ſo remarkably actuated the Gentlemen of the General Aſſembly of the Maſſachuſetts-Bay, in the moſt difficult and perilous Times, to their immortal Honour, continues with them ſtill in an eminent Degree; and notwithſtanding all Attempts to delude and draw them into a Snare, they continue as fix'd as Fate in their Reſolution of preſerving the Liberties of their Country.——Their Governor having treated them with a good Deal of Severity which appear'd calculated to caſt an Odium on the Province, in his late Speeches, they replied to him in a Stile and Manner that reflects Credit on themſelves and Country.——With Regard to an Indemnification, which is required by the Governor, immediately, at all Events, for the Sufferers during the late Commotions, they ſignify, that, as they conceive, the Sufferers have never applied to them in a parliamentary Way, they are of Opinion that they have done all at preſent that their moſt gracious Sovereign and His Parliament, can reaſonably expect from them.——But that to ſhew Reſpect to the Recommendation, they have appointed a Committee of Inquiry, into this Matter, who are to make Report next Seſſion, when they will act thereon as ſhall appear to them juſt and reaſonable.——His Excellency having urged an immediate Compliance with his Requiſition, by an Argument drawn from a Regard to the Town of Boſton, the Reputation of whoſe Inhabitants, he ſays, has already ſuffered much for having been tame Spectators of the Violences committed, and that this Diſgrace would be removed thereby——they acquaint him in Reply, they can ſee no Reaſon why the Reputation of that Town ſhould ſuffer in the Opinion of any one from all the Evidence that has fallen under their Obſervation; nor does it appear to them how a Compliance would remove ſuch Diſgrace if that Town had been ſo unhappy as to have fallen under it.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.

Extract of a Letter from London, May 10, 1766.

"I wrote to you before the Stamp-Act was repealed. We have now a Proſpect of repealing ſeveral other grievous Particulars in the Acts of Trade; and finally, I hope, both Countries will be happy in a cordial and mutual Regard for each other."

Extract of another Letter from the ſame Place, and of the ſame Date.

"They now talk of ſome Changes in the Miniſtry. The Duke of Grafton, a Man of Talents, has threatened, for ſome Time, to reſign. The Earl of Egmont, a Man of Buſineſs and Acuteneſs, will, it is ſaid, ſucceed him as Secretary of State. Mr. Conway, who ſet out with Diffidence and Modeſty, riſes daily in the Public Eſteem, as a Man of Senſe and Integrity, and will probably keep his Station.——Mr. Yorke, the preſent Attorney General, an able and worthy Man, will, it is thought, be made Lord Keeper, in the Room of Lord Northington.——You, on the other Side the Water, will now have a breathing Time, and Leiſure to deliberate how beſt to make Application for the Redreſs of any other Grievances in Point of Trade, &c. you ſtill labour under."

On Thurſday laſt James M'Kinſey, the Perſon mentioned in our Gazette of the Tenth Inſtant, as being ſuſpected of the Murder and Robbery of two Indian Woman near Moore's Town, in the Jerſeys, was taken up here, and examined before the Mayor of the City; and tho' he did not confeſs that he was guilty of the horrid Deed, yet as he ſaid it was done by James Anin, who was in Company with him, and now in Cuſtody, as one of the Murderers (and who, we hear, told exactly the ſame Story, with reſpect to him, M'Kinſey) he was immediately ſent to Burlington Goal.

ANNAPOLIS, July 24.

We have further melancholy Accounts of the Damage done by the heavy Rains the Beginning of this Month, particularly to the Mills and Mill-Dams, many of them being thereby deſtroyed and entirely carried away; out of 30 Mills neareſt to Frederick-Town in Cæcil County, we are told only Four are left ſtanding.

On the 4th Inſtant, in the Morning, the Dam of Cheſter-Mill in Queen-Anne's County, began to give way, and was ſoon broke down, that valuable Mill, together with a great Number of Bags of Grain, were ſoon carried away, the Mill-Stones, by the Rapidity of the Water, being waſh'd away above 50 Yards. The Damage which Col. Hopper has thereby ſuſtain'd is ſuppos'd to be not leſs than Twelve Hundred Pounds.

WE have daily an Importation of COPPERS, or Engliſh HALF-PENCE, from thoſe Places where they Paſs 15 for a Shilling, (which is nearly about their Worth) to circulate here Twelve only for a Shilling: This gainful Trade has long been carried on by ſome - - - - - - - - - - but muſt at length prove very Prejudicial to the Public. To make this plain and clear to the meaneſt Capacity, who are moſt liable to be Impoſed on; let him Change a Dollar, which is Four Shillings and Six-pence (or Fifty-four Pence) Sterling, into Engliſh Half-pences, and he will receive 108 of them; but let him Change it at the Current Price 7/6, at the preſent Rate of Twelve for a Shilling, and he will receive only 90 Coppers, which is 18 Coppers, or 9d Sterling, Short of the Value of each Dollar. It is a Fact, that Guineas have been Exchang'd with Perſons going out of the Country, for 42 Dozen Coppers each, which were paſſed here, each Dozen, for One Shilling. The Impoſition on the Public is ſo obvious, that it may be ſeen with Half an Eye, and it is to be hoped will no longer be ſuffer'd; but that every Perſon will, from this Time, to prevent the growing Evil, refuſe to take leſs than 15 for a Shilling Currency, or 24 for a Shilling Sterling.
